GENERAL BACKGROUND:

- QUESTION: What is Executive Order 202.8?
ANSWER: Executive Order 202.8 is a directive issued by New York State Governor Andrew Cuomo that requires businesses in New York State to reduce the number of employees working at individual locations in New York State to help combat the COVID-19 outbreak.
- QUESTION: Where can I find Governor Cuomo’s Executive Orders?
ANSWER: Executive Orders can be found at: <https://www.governor.ny.gov/executiveorders>
- QUESTION: What are the employee reduction requirements contained in Executive Order 202.8?
ANSWER: Employers are required to reduce the number of employees working at each location by 100% effective March 22, 2020 at 8 p.m.
- QUESTION: What businesses are required to reduce their workforce pursuant to Executive Order 202.8?
ANSWER: The employment reduction requirements apply to all for-profit and not-for-profit employers in New York State, unless such business is deemed an essential business or entity providing essential services. These entities are considered “Essential Business.”
- QUESTION: Are state and local governments required to comply with Executive Order 202.8?

ANSWER: No. State and local governments including public authorities, municipal governments, and school districts are not covered by Executive Order 202.8.

6. QUESTION: What is an “Essential Business”?

ANSWER: An Essential Business is any business providing products or services that are required to maintain the health, welfare and safety of the citizens of New York State. Guidance as to whether a business is an “Essential Business” can be found on the website of Empire State Development at: <https://esd.ny.gov/guidance-executive-order-2026>

7. QUESTION: What should I do to determine if my business is an “Essential Business”?

ANSWER: Businesses should review the guidance on the website of Empire State Development (“ESD”) at: <https://esd.ny.gov/guidance-executive-order-2026> to determine whether they are an Essential Business.

If you have reviewed this guidance and require additional assistance in determining whether or not your business is permitted to operate on-site, you may consult the New York Forward Business Reopening Lookup Tool at: <https://www.businessexpress.ny.gov/app/nyforward>

8. QUESTION: What if my business is listed as an “Essential Business”?

ANSWER: If your firm is an Essential Business, your business is exempt from the employment reduction provisions contained in Executive Order 202.8 and no further action is required by you.

9. QUESTION: If my business is determined to be an “Essential Business” are all employees permitted to work at the business location

ANSWER: No. Only those employees that are needed to provide the products and services that are essential to provide such products or services are permitted to work at the business location. In addition, Essential Businesses are still required to utilize telecommuting or work from home procedures to the maximum extent possible. Those employees who do report to work must adhere to the requirements set forth in the Department of Health guidelines, which can be found at <https://coronavirus.health.ny.gov/home>.

For example, if your firm has three production lines, one of which manufactures medical equipment and the other two manufacture toys, your business is exempt from the employment reduction requirements of Executive Orders 202.8 to the extent that employees are needed to maintain the production capacity of the line manufacturing medical equipment. All other employees are subject to the workforce reduction requirements. In addition, to the maximum extent possible, employees needed to support the medical manufacturing line (i.e. human resources, accounting, legal, etc.) are still required to utilize telecommuting or work from home procedures to the maximum extent possible.

10. QUESTION: What if my business is determined NOT to be an “Essential Business”?

ANSWER: If your firm is not an Essential Business, your business is required to comply with the employment reduction provisions contained in Executive Order 202.8 which requires the number of employees working at each location be reduced by 100% effective March 22, 2020 at 8 p.m.

11. QUESTION: What if my business is NOT an “Essential Business” listed on ESD’s guidance but provides services, materials, supplies or other support to an Essential Business?

ANSWER: If your firm is a vendor, supplier or provides other support to an Essential Business that is required for the Essential Business’s operation, then your business is exempt from the employment reduction provisions contained in Executive Orders 202.8. However, only those employees necessary to support the Essential Business are exempt from the employment reduction requirements of Executive Orders 202.8 and your business is still required to utilize telecommuting or work from home procedures to the maximum extent possible.

12. QUESTION: What if my business is not essential, but a person must pick up the mail or perform a similar routine function each day?

ANSWER: A single person attending a non-essential closed business temporarily to perform a specific task is permitted so long as they will not be in contact with other people.
